THIRTY SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

11 November 2018 Year B

Next Week's Readings: Thirty Third Sunday of Ordinary Time.

Daniel 12:1-3; Hebrews 10: 11-14, 18; Mark 13: 24-32

Quality not Quantity

In the Gospel this weekend we hear about a woman whose husband has died. In Our Lord's day this would severely impact on her financial situation and therefore her livelihood. Widows were often on the lower rungs of the financial and social ladder. However, she is still prepared to give to God, not just out of what she could afford or had left over, but rather the very money she had to live on.

The widow made a real sacrifice to support the Temple while the rich simply gave out of their surplus.

I may not always be in a position to share money. But I can share in other ways – giving of my time, of my goods, of my talents, of space and resources in “my” country.

But there is a dilemma in all of this. How much and how often am I meant to give? If I do give of what is essential for me in order to live, then I will have nothing left. True. However, while I can usually give of my surplus, there may be times when I am called to give of my necessities.

But I don't think it is just a question of what to give and how much to give. It's not the amount that counts or what is given, rather it's the quality of the giving. The widow's inner dispositions of generosity and dedication are qualities that Jesus will display in His passion.

These are the same qualities that Jesus calls His disciples to put into practice.

Our Parish Music Director, Paul Sorensen, has confirmed that he will be retiring from this position after Easter next year. An essential part of Paul's duties as Music Director has been the directing of the Parish Choir which function, apart from the choir's own music presentation, also aims to promote and enhance the overall music life of the parish in accordance with approved liturgical guidelines. We need now to appoint as soon as possible a person to fill the position of Director of the Parish Choir. Persons interested in assuming this role are invited to initially contact Janet, Parish Secretary on 4377902. Paul will be available to assist the new appointee as may be required.

It costs $5,270.24 to run the parish each week. This week we received $4,744.00 from all collections. Thank you.

Please remember the Parish in your Will
